RÉAMHRÁ

Seoladh an chéad Chlár MEDIA AE in 1991 chun tacú leis an bhforbairt, cur chun cinn agus dáileadh ar shaothair chlosamhairc Eorpacha. Bunaíodh Oifigí Eolais chun an clár a chur chun cinn i ngach ceann de na 15 thír a bhí rannpháirteach ann agus bhí oifigí réigiúnacha nó Antennae i gcuid de na tíortha freisin ar chúiseanna réigiúnacha nó teanga.

Chuaigh Ionad Scannánaíochta na Gaillimhe (Ardán) i dteagmháil le hÚdarás na Gaeltachta faoin bhféidearthacht a bhainfeadh le hoifig eolais réigiúnach MEDIA a bhunú i nGaillimh d'fhonn an tionscal ciosamhairc a chur chun cinn agus a fhorbairt in Iarthar na hÉireann agus sna ceantair Ghaeltachta.

Le comhaontú an Choimisiúin Eorpaigh, bunaíodh MEDIA Antenna na Gaillimhe i bhFeabhra 1992. Tharla sé sin roimh athbhunú Bhord Scannán na hÉireann in 1993, an leasú ar Fhuascailt Cánach Ailt 35 in 1993 agus seoladh TG4 in 1996.

D'fheidhmigh an MEDIA Antenna mar oifig eolais do MEDIA 1, (1991-1995), MEDIA 2 (1996-2000), MEDIA Plus (2001-2006) agus MEDIA 2007 (2007-2013).

In 2014, comhcheanglaíodh an Clár MEDIA leis an gClár Cultúir faoi scéim tacaíochta nua darbh ainm An Eoraip Chruthaitheach. Lean Oifig Dheasa na hEorpa Cruthaithe i nGaillimh ar aghaidh faoina hainm nua ag cur eolais, chomhairle agus tacaíochta ar fáil don earnáil ciosamhairc in Iarthar na hÉireann i rith an chéad Chlár na hEorpa Cruthaithe (2014-2020) agus Clár na hEorpa Cruthaithe (2021-2027).

Ó cuireadh tús leis an gcéad Chlár MEDIA in 1991 tá €7 milliún infheistithe in Iarthar na hÉireann agus beagnach dhá milliún den mhéid sin infheistithe sna ceantair Ghaeltachta.

Leis an earnáil ciosamhairc san Iarthar ag dul ó neart go neart i gcónaí, táimid ag súil le cur leis an rathúlacht sin sna blianta atá romhainn.

INTRODUCTION

The first EU MEDIA Programme was launched in 1991 to support the development, promotion and distribution of European audio-visual works. Information Offices to promote the Programme were established in each of the 15 participating countries with some countries also having regional offices or Antennae for regional or linguistic reasons.

Galway Film Centre (Ardán) approached Údarás na Gaeltachta in 1991 about the possibility of setting up a regional MEDIA Information office in Galway with a view to promoting and developing an audio-visual industry in the West of Ireland and the Gaeltacht regions.

With the agreement of the European Commission, MEDIA Antenna Galway was established in February 1992. This was prior to the reconstitution of Bord Scannán na hÉireann / The Irish Film Board in 1993, the amendment of the Section 35 Tax Break in 1993 and the launch of TG4 in 1996.

The MEDIA Antenna operated as an information office for MEDIA 1, (1991-1995), MEDIA 2 (1996-2000), MEDIA Plus (2001-2006) and MEDIA 2007 (2007-2013)

In 2014 the MEDIA Programme was merged with the Culture Programme under a new support scheme called Creative Europe. The renamed Creative Europe Desk MEDIA Office Galway continued to provide information advice and support to the audio-visual sector in the West of Ireland during the first Creative Europe Programme (2014-2020) and the current Programme Creative Europe (2021-2027)

Since the first MEDIA Programme began in 1991 €7 million has been invested in the audio-visual sector in the West of Ireland with almost €2 million of this invested in the Gaeltacht regions. As the sector continues to expand and flourish we look forward to building on this success in the years to come.
