Venice Biennale and Collaborative Arts Partnership Programme

4th - 6th November

Irish arts organisation, Create and its EU partners in the Collaborative Arts Partnership Programme will be working with Artway of Thinking, at this year's Venice Biennale. Artway of Thinking is a contemporary Italian art research project originally developed by Stefania Mantovani and Federica Thiene in 1992. Artway of Thinking has been awarded the Evens Arts Prize 2015 and will be awarded the prestigious prize at an award giving ceremony to be held during the Venice Biennale 2015.

A multidisciplinary group, Artway of Thinking activates collaborations with administrative authorities, companies and professionals. It has worked in Italy and abroad on 38 projects, and has established six workshop models focused on increasing the capacity to "co-create" new realities. For more information, see www.artway.info

Collaborative Arts Partnership Programme (CAPP) 2014-2018

"CAPP- supporting the development of collaborative arts across Europe"

A transnational partnership on collaborative arts funded by Creative Europe

Partners: Create-Ireland (coordinating lead partner) Agora Collective Berlin, hablarenarte, Madrid, Heart of Glass Liverpool, Kunsthalle Osnabrück, Osnabrück, Live Art Development Agency London, Ludwig Museum - Museum of Contemporary Art Budapest, M-Cult Helsinki, and Tate Liverpool.

The Collaborative Arts Partnership Programme (CAPP) is an ambitious transnational cultural programme focusing on the dynamic area of collaborative arts. The overall goal of CAPP is to improve and open up opportunities for artists who are working collaboratively across Europe, by enhancing mobility and exchange whilst at the same time engaging new publics and audiences for collaborative practices. The different strands of the CAPP programme consist of national and international professional development opportunities, artist residencies, commissioned works, public presentations and debates, and a major showcase to be held in 2018. Throughout the partner communities CAPP will provide creative spaces with the potential to bring out new conversations, meaningful relationships and transformative forms of collaborative engagement.

In addition, the Collaborative Arts Partnership Programme will engage with policy makers, academics, cross-sector partners and diverse communities in the partner countries with a view to facilitating knowledge exchange, dynamic arts programming and cultural policy development. This innovative four year programme seeks to develop new audiences by extending participation in the arts across Europe.
